Arriving late at school

As a school of excellence, ISWB upholds an organised and scheduled learning programme. Students depend on the structure and consistency of this schedule which includes teaching times as indicated on the timetable. When students are repeatedly arriving late for school in the mornings, lesson times are disrupted and routines broken up. Students who arrive late have trouble settling in and are needlessly stressed which in turn it can upset their whole day.

More important, students who arrive late might be recorded as “absent” for the day on the register.

Steps to take should your child be absent from school

The school needs to know in advance should your child be absent for the day.

Celebrating your child's birthday at school

Birthday

Having your birthday is probably the most important day of the year in any child's life.

We appreciate and understand the excitement, but have a friendly request regarding the cake or cakes brought to school:

Please make sure that the cake(s) will be enough for everybody in the class.

Square cakes can be cut in equal sizes

Cupcakes are even better
